

Handelsblatt Conference

Security and Defence

30 and 31 January 2024, Berlin + Streaming event

"Zeitenwende": now for real.

Russia's attack on Ukraine was a wake-up call for security and defense policy in Germany and Europe. Long unthinkable, questions of defense capability and armaments policy have been at the top of the political agenda ever since. The first year of the "Zeitenwende" was characterized by many announcements and little implementation. In the second year, many plans become more concrete. The EU is also focusing on the defense industry.

But are the current efforts sufficient to meet the increased requirements for national and alliance defense? How must and can the current structures change? What are the long-term prospects for the Bundeswehr and the defense industry? What projects need to be launched now in order to be ready for defense in the future?

To provide clarity in uncertain times, we are bringing together the key minds from industry, the military, politics and academia at the Handelsblatt Security and Defense Conference. We discuss the issues that concern you constructively, critically and independently. As Germany's leading business and financial newspaper, we are particularly interested in how the implementation of the change of era will affect the defense industry, innovative capabilities and technological developments in the German armed forces and industry.

There is a lot to talk about - we look forward to meeting you.

Yours

Larissa Holzki
